REGRET is generally expressed here, writes an Ichang correspondent to the N.-C. THE hanghai Mercury of September 10 says :- A serious accident occurred yesterday outside of Messra Boyd & Co.'s New Dock, when a heavily laden kerosene lighter fouled the boss of the bulk Menam, moored at the dock gates, and the s.s. Soochow, which was moored alongside of her. The lighter got right across the two steamers, with a strong flood tide making, early in the atternoon; the shore moorings (steel hawsers) carried away, and both vessels came right round on their heels, fouling to some extent the s.s. Ghazee, and nearly causing serious damage to the steamers Knowyang and Keccilin in the violnity. The Sochow had actually n anchor out in the stream, but the large lighter across the two vessels, with the full rush of the flood tide was too much of strain 28th of $4.00. on the moorings. The Scocker could not let go her second anchor, with the kerosene lighter right under it; her anchor would have rendered a final account of kerosene and lighter, besides must probably of some of the Celestials on board. In coming round on her heel, against the dock, with a strong wind blowing her on to the lesshore, the Sockow twisted her rudder post, and had to have her rudder unshipped and put into order again. This accident will probably cause a detention of several days to the Soochow, and will also detain, for some time, the same Company's steamer, Kweiyang, which was going into dock, thus causing a general inconvenience all round to the vessels concerned, from the lighter, which was the primary cause of the accident, to the steamers Suochow, Chazes, Kweijung and Rweilin, and the bulk Menam: the latter four vessels were all snugly and safely moored in the river, when our respresentative called at the scene of the accident. No lives were reported as having been lest, but the people on board

THE DISQUESTON ON THE SHARE ORDINANCE. of the discussion on the Share Ordinance by the Chamber of Commurce, which was keepers, clerks, commanders, officers and briefly reported yesterday :---

Hon, E. R. Belilios - Mr Chairman, long speeches have been made in favour of this amondment which has been proposed and seconded but not a word has been said with regard to my principal contention, that in the present circumstances of the Colony this law is essential here. I have all slope said that if we had enough money. enough capital floating in the Colony, I for one would say cert inly repeal the bill. But we have not get the money. Investors buy shares thinking that a certain stock consists, say, of a thousand shares and they are disappointed when they find that the supply of shares is practically inexhaustible. It is increased to two, three or four thousand shares and it is not in the capacity of the holders of these shares to buy the surplus quantity thrown on the market. Consequently those holding bong fide chares are sufferers. It is simply because we have not enough floating-capital in the Colony that a law of this kind is necessary to protect the weak (applause.)

ing that 'extremes most,' and it seems to me that we are having an illustration of this fact to-day. When I came to the first meeting I thought that the question was whether the Share Bill of 1891 was to be absolutely in tota approved or absolutely in toto repealed. What is the actual position to-day ! Mr. Bell-Irving at the last meeting in a very moderately worded speech himself admitted that new laws are seldomperfect and he thought that some modification in future might be introduced. To-day in Mr. Grote's speech, tee the same moderation. longer proposes to abolish the Bill proposes merely to modify it-to modify in such particulars that the Bill shall hold good with regard to shares in financial institutions, but be modified so that you should allow forward sales without the numbers for a period of three months. During the whole of the summer this Buth has been in a particularly diety condition, and from what thes appeared to public prints, the members of this popular Olub, cau readily be learned, are highly indigmant that nothing is done to do away with the grounds of complaint. The Committee cannot plead ignorance. The matter has been brought often enough to their notice. Yet, not only have they taken no visible means to improve the state of the bath, but they have not even given members the satisfaction of informing them that any scheme is before the Committee or that next sugger the bath will be improved. Members do not care to risk their health by including in their usual swim, because of the dirty state of the water inside the bath, and many do not care about risking their lives in the Harbour outside the enclosure. If, therefore, members of the V.R.C. cesse to use the both it is not outside the bounds of possibility that they may find little advantage otherwise being members of the Club, and it will be left to be seen whether the members who use the boats and the few who use the Gymnasium will be able to keep the Club together. But, notwithstanding the wind being in a direction to blow the flames towards them, they came off tolerably well, although many the peace where foreigners are concerned. must have had narrow, and marvellous, escapes from baving their light, dry mate and upper works set on fire by the passing flames. The fire which broke out shortly after 10 p.m. continued until the early hours of the morning, when it was got under by Chinese appliances, principally because there was no more 'fodder for the fiend to feast on.' The gunboat was unable to render any assistance as Captain Burder, Mr-Holman, and all hands were required on board to secure the safety of their own ship.

The village that has been nearly destroyed is said by the city officials to have furnished all the rougher element among the rioters here, exactly twelve months since. If this was so, maybe the fire has done a little good by way of giving these gentry other matters to reflect on this year. Although one sympathises a little with the owners of the junks that were burned, such sympathy is, perhaps, misplaced; the crows of these junks are said to have been the principals in the destruction of property last September.

The scene at about midnight was certain. ly imposing, awful, and grand; the flames leaped up from the burning village and cast a lurid light on a dark, background of rug ged hill and mountain top and painted the sky with the red glow of warm suffused light; while the fire ships drifteddown smoog the shipping and lighted up the hill sides. that sprang up from the river bank, and illumined the sides and deck houses of the steamers, that were doing their best to avoid them, with a wend fantastic outline that revealed shadowy forms armed with at the request of a number of people who gars and spars to bear the Breships clear of live there. ASSAULT ON MISSIONARIES IN

A missionary writing to the N.-C. Daily News under date 15th August, from the Yangtze Ling, 55 miles N. W. of Chêntu, in Szechuan, saya: Mr Polhill-Turner and wife with two children and Dr Parry and wife with their youngest shild yesterday with us, and the Duotor leaves for the village below, to-day. Mr and Mrs Polhill-Turner stay in the temple with us. They have been subjected to gross ill-treatment at Sungp'an whither they had gone to meet Dr Parry, as Mrs. Turner was itl. It was while they were waiting at Sungpan that the natives who were suffering from want of rain came to the conclusion that the foreign missionaries were skilled in accommantio arts and had used these arts to prevent the rain falling. The natives were lashed into fury at this, and made an attack upon the missionaries: Mr Turner was sojzed, his arms and legs tied. he was kicked and struck over the head. and having been overpowered the mob seized his wife and children. While this was going on a military mandaria apparently in order to gain time suggested that the missionaries should be tried before the mob ! proceeded further. This being seconded to they were taken to the yamen and ordered to be beaten, but two native Christians Black (Mr H-) | volunteered to be beaten in their place. The mob was satisfied and the missionaries. loft Sungplan for this place. The writer also states that the cholera was still bad at Choutu, and that lots of uncoffined bodies were lying outgide the city gates. It was rumoused that the people at the village at the foot of the mountain on which the writer was would drive the missionaries out of the temple, awing apparently to the presence of Mr and Mrs Polhill-Turner, Tremendous rains had fallen and done considerable damage, the village above referred to being (a) Il Kt 2 or P K R 3 is the proper con- nearly swamped with mud which was eighteen mehes deep in some of the houses.

A HUNAN OFFICIAL AND 'FOREIGN DEVILS. The Rev. Edward S. Little, Kinkiang

An event has just occurred here

writes to the N.-C. Daily News:

which ought to be noticed by the public: it will show bow much the officials do to keep The facts of the case are as follows :- The Magistrate, whose name is Lo Hwang shu (羅廣脫), in charge of the district here called Tehhwa shien (温化縣), proceedud on the 16th of the present moon, to a market town 80 h from here called Sha Ho (沙河镇), to hold an inquest on the body of a native who had met his death there a day or two before in a brawl. On the evening of the day he addressed a number of literary mer and gentry and a miscellaneous crowd of people gathered on the road as follows:- We Hunan men have no fear of "foreign devils," if you make a riot here do not be afraid for I have the settlement of the case. When I go on the street (foreign) if I meet them (i.e. foreign dovils) they must make way for me or I will run into them. If I had been formerly the Magistrate of this District I would certainly not have allowed the "foreign devils" to have established a foreign devils had not come to China for any good purpose and so on. We regard this as quite a serious matter. The place Sha Ho has a character for roughness. We have been in the place a long time and have a dispensary, school. and chapel there, and are well liked by the people. I am there continually. I was there a couple of days after the man referred to died, and just before the Magistrate came, and have always been well received. Our dispensary has been opened Magistrate is, as is usual with his Hunan countrymen, anti-foreign; for a proof of this witness his statement above in reference to the Concession and his treatment of foreigners when he met them.

Concession. Besides this there was good deal of other talk like this saying that

Notice another thing, this man goes out of his district in an official capacity and on official business and while there he ppenly exhorts the people to riot, and then says that he is the official who will have the settlement of the case and that he will see that they do not suffer for it. Will it be wondered at that the people are bitterly apposed to foreigners and that difficulty is constantly arising when this kind of thing is going on? My renders will also remark his brag about the prowess of the Hunan men. He doubtless knows all about the Hunan placerds that were issued last year and that are being just as vigorously issued this year as if nothing had taken place. He also must know about the talk of sending the Esk and a Consul to Hunan and the abandoning of that scheme. A harvest of trouble may be reaped from this wook policy. This matter has been put into the hands of the Consul and will be dealt vigorously with we hope. It is too grave an affair to be lightly passed by. The Magistrate ought to be made to put out a proclams. tion in Sha Ho saying the opposite of what he uttored when last there, and be removed in disgrace from the district.
